

Make your sessions truly interactive and fun. Use the AgendaPop polling feature to capture your attendees' responses in a live environment for all to see.

How to implement a successful live poll:

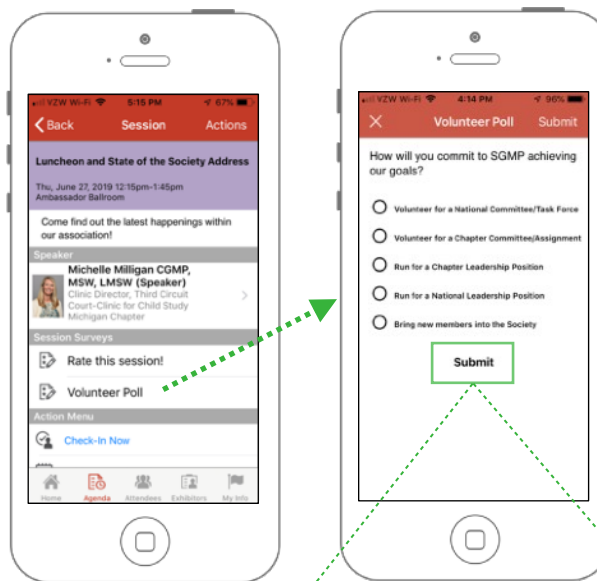

1 Create the poll well in advance of the event, such as 1-2 weeks. The polls are created in the survey builder inside the AgendaPop publishing tool.

2 The format is simple: A question (or statement) and a list of choices.

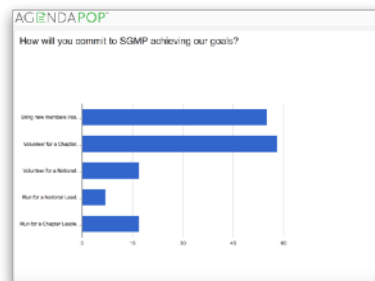

Request either a pie chart or a bar chart to display your results to the audience.

3 The chart will be shown via a URL that is generated by AgendaPop. Copy the unique URL of your chart and paste it into a web browser before your session, or provide the URL to the A/V support person. If you're using PowerPoint, you'll switch from PowerPoint to the web browser to display the chart.

These results are projected on a screen during your session, not in the app.

The URLs for the results are obtained from inside the AgendaPop publishing tool:

Be Prepared

- Have the Internet browser tab already loaded with the poll URL, and be sure there is a good WiFi signal in your meeting room.
- Inform the participants at the beginning of the session to have the app downloaded and ready to take a poll, which will be listed in your session details page.
- Direct the participants to take the poll, and then display the results in your browser as they are taking the poll.
- If multiple polls are used within a session, each poll will have its own unique URL.
